BANK CLOSING INEFFECTIVE

Expected Lifelessness of Usual Sat urday Afternoon on Exchange Is Turned Into Day of Unusual Significance in Financial Circles. Market Firm Under Pressure.

New York, Jan. 7.-What everybody expected to be the usual lifeless and stupid stock market of a Saturday halfsession of the stock exchange in the urrent dull times was turned to-day by the course of events into the most highly significant market seen in the last six months. Before the opening of the stock exchange it became a matter of more or less general knowledge that the State superintendent either had closed or was about to close the Carnegic Trust Company, and such an annonucement, of course, provided an interesting test of the stock market's general present sta-

DUN'S REPORT OF BANK CLEARINGS FOR 1910

Bank clearings usually reflect very closely the volume of business operations, and 1916 pears comming usually remote very enously the volume of business operations, and 1916 preven no exception to this rule, as they clearly indicate the gradual business depression that developed during the progress of the year. Teni bank exchanges at all cities in the United States, according to satisfies collected by R. G. Dun & Co., which include returns from 112 leading centers, amounting to $162.839,223,622, a loss of 1.4 per cent. compared onstean country, according to excitate consected by R. G. DUN & Co., which include returns from 112 leading centers, amounting to $162.839,223,622, a less of 1.4 per cent. compared with 1999, but again of 1.8 per cent. over the active year 1996. The leas, however, compared with the previous total, is chiefly due to the marked decrease at New York City. In the New England States the first three menths were notable for marked increases over 1999 at practically every city, but from them on unsettled conditions in the textile and some other manufacturing including and the conditions in the textile and some other manufacturing including the conditions. manufacturing industries, resulted in losses at Boston, Fall River and one or two other impertant centers, which were only partially offset by gains at Springfield, Worcester, Lowell, Providence, Hartford and New Haven, and there is a loss in the total of this section for the se, Hartford and New Haven, and there is a loss in the total of this section for the full year as compared with 1969 of 0.4 per cent., but a gain of 1.4 per cent. compared with 1906. Bank exchanges in the Middle Atlantic states abow a gain over1909 of 9.2 per cent., and they also make a fairly favorable comparison with 1906, but most of this iner to the large gains during the first half of the year, several cities reporting a falling off during October, November and December, mainly because of the depression in the iron and steel markets. The exhibit for the year as a whole, however, is satisfactory, nearly all the important cities reperting more or less gain, among them Phil delphis, Pittsburg, Scratten, Reading, Eric, Buffalo, Albany, Rochester, Syracuse and Binghamten. Well main tained activity in the manufacturing and commercial industries of the Southern Atlantic States is shown by the pronounced increase over both years at every city reporting, and though there was some slight irregularity during the closing months, and the gains were greatest in the first and second quarters, the total reflects the prevalence of throughout the entire section. Among the cities reporting gains over both years are Balt-timore, Washington, Richmond, Nor olk, Charleston, Savannah, Atlanta, Columbus, Ga. and Jacksonville. The total for the Southern St on shows good gains over both last for by conditions affecting the cotton markots at some points, the returns re-flect generally prosperous conditions at nearly every center, and some report capacially large increases, notably at St. Louts, New Orleans, Louisville, Memphis, Nashville, Birmingsould the speculations, who jumped to the control of the property would cause an underest, the property would cause an underest, the property would cause an underest, the property of the speculation the face of the property of the speculation the face of the property of the speculation of the even referred to was the signal for the execution of large forces for the property of the speculation of the even referred to the whole the signal for the execution of large forces for the property of the speculation of the control of the speculation of the control of the speculation of the control of the contr oga, Knuxville and Little Rock.
